AT CHICAGO.

The National Democratic Convention Will Convene June 21.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The banquet hall of the Arlington Hotel, where the National Democratic Committee met today, was handsomely decorated with the flags of all nations—the American colors predominating. Intertwined among the decorations was running ivy and smilax with a background of mirrors, which reflected the gay colors and vines in every direction. In a semi-circle about the seat of the chairman, facing the entrance to the banquet hall, were drawn up 200 chairs. Back of these was an open space. The room accommodates 600 persons.

Senator Bruce, Chairman of the Executive Committee, called the meeting to order at 12:10 p. m. and Gen. Walker introduced District Commissioner Ross, who delivered an address of welcome.

The roll was then called, and Senator Vilas moved to go into executive session. The motion prevailed. At 12:20 the door were closed.

When the committee reassembled Mr. Sulloway, of New Hampshire, moved that June 21 be selected as the next date for holding the convention. Mr. Watterson selected July 5. Mr. Gorman supported June 21 and Patterson stated that he was not particular as to any date and withdrew his motion, and June 21 was selected.

Chairman Bruce stated that each city would be allowed 20 minutes to present its claims. Cincinnati, Detroit, Indianapolis, Kansas City, New York, Milwaukee, San Francisco and St. Paul asked for the convention. Fifteen ballots were necessary to decide the fight and that ballot resulted as follows: Chicago, 27; Milwaukee, 18; Kansas City, 2; St. Paul, 1; Detroit, 1.

A Good One on Hub.

When Col. Ingersoll undertook the defense of Dorsey of star route notoriety he was given a check for $50,000, with the understanding that he was to employ some one to assist him and pay for such services. Ingersoll determined to employ the late John McSweeney, of Wooster, Ohio, who was the foremost criminal lawyer in the United States. Ingersoll had never met McSweeney, but he telegraphed him to come to Washington. McSweeney, tho' a full-blooded Irishman, had spent several years in a German university and looked like a German.

Dorsey's confidential man, George Eakens, was a German, and was expected the day before McSweeney would arrive. As Eakens had some important knowledge, Colonel Ingersoll was anxious to see him. He went up to the Arlington, where all the Dorsey party were quartered, and awaited his man's arrival. Soon there entered a tall stout man with his trousers tucked into a pair of No. 9 boots and his clothing bespattered with mud. His hair fell in ringlets on his shoulders, and his whole appearance was that of a journeyman Texas cowboy. The stranger had scarcely time to look around before he was in the grasp of the famous orator, who said:

"I am Ingersoll."

"Yes," returned the other, "I was looking for you."

"Ah, I thought so," chuckled the Colonel. "Come right up to the room," and without giving the guest time to register wanted to say to you, Mr. Eakens, was in the matter of my fee. It won't be worth while to mention the amount I received to McSweeney when he comes, as he will naturally do his utmost. I propose to employ him as cheap as I can. Of course I must have him, and if it comes to a pinch I would pay him $25,000 to assist me, but I think I can get him for $5,000 perhaps, and I am satisfied he won't refuse $10,000 in such a case as this, if he thinks that is all he can get. He's an awful stickler for fees, though, I hear, so just oblige me and don't tell him what I got."

"Oh, certainly not," said the said individual.

"Well, I'll see you again in a few minutes," said Ingersoll as he left the room.

A short time after that he saw the name John Sweeney on the register and sent up his card. He was directed to the same room.

"Where's McSweeney?" inquired Ingersoll, looking around hurriedly.

"That's my name," said the supposed Eakens, with a comical drawl that grated on Ingersoll's ears. What followed need not be told. Of course they divided the fee equally.—Seattle Press.

TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATION.

The National Surgical Institute Destroyed by Fire.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 22.—One of the most appalling fires in the history of Indianapolis occurred to-night. The National Surgical Institute, one of the most famous institutions in the United States, burned to the ground. The fire started in the office building, and above this office were the wards for babes and mothers, and known as the A B C departments.

Attendant Bartley awakened all the patients in the halls and on the upper rooms pandemonium reigned. Shriek after shriek for help went up as the inmates realized their horrible situation. In a few moments white and thoroughly scared faces appeared at each window of the large building, and the lips could be seen beseeching succor from those below; yet their voices could not be heard. Prayer after prayer went up from the unfortunate that they might not perish in flames after suffering the most terrible pains from their afflictions.

The Surgical Institute is a large four-story building and when the fire broke out to-night it sheltered 300 patients, cripples of every description, many of them entirely helpless. The scene that greeted the firemen upon their appearance was of the most appalling character. The latest report is that several dead bodies have been found, also two of the women who jumped from the upper stories have died at the temporary hospital. The fire is about under control, and the building is a mass of ruins, nothing but the shell remaining.

Another to Hang.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 22.—The jury in the case of Dennis McCarty, charged with brutally murdering his wife, brought in a verdict of guilty and said that the murderer must hang.

Killed at Sturgis.

Sturgis, Ky., Jan. 24.—Last night city marshal Gough Withers shot and mortally wounded Jas. Mansfield, who lingered until to-day, when he died. Withers undertook to arrest Mansfield and the latter made at him with an open knife, when the officer drew his pistol and fired, inflicting a mortal wound.

KENTUCKY AT THE FAIR.

A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting Held at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 20.—To-day 241 representative men from almost every county in the State assembled in this city to consider the ways and means to have Kentucky appropriately represented at Chicago in 1893.

There delegates were called to order by President Gathright of the Commercial Club. Ex-Governor Buckner was made permanent chairman of the meeting. Committees were appointed, and the delegates were then by a number of the leading spirits, all urging Kentuckians to assist in making the display at Chicago a success. The committee on resolutions reported the following which was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, It is desirable in the highest degree that Kentucky should make at the World's Fair in Chicago, in 1893, a suitable display of her agricultural and mineral resources, and her great progress in the past, and of her illimitable means of progress in the future; and

"Whereas, All the States around us have appropriated large sums of money to enable them to display properly their advantages.

"Therefore, be it Resolved, That we heartily appreciate the recommendation of the Governor in his message to the General Assembly in favor of a liberal appropriation of money for this purpose; that we earnestly and respectfully request and urge the General Assembly to set apart one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), for the purpose of making a suitable display at the World's Columbian Exposition.

"The Governor will, no doubt, select eminent and able men to administer this trust, and the money will be judiciously and honestly spent. We are not only interested in commemorating the discovery of this continent by Columbus and the enrichment of the millions of people that now inhabit the United States, and that enjoy the blessings of liberty and prosperity; that we are specially interested in making known to our fellow-countrymen and to the world that here in Kentucky the riches of nature have been stored in the richest abundance and the people who now have the benefit of her almost matchless resources, have not only profited by this inheritance but are willing to share it with all deserving people who come into our midst, accept our laws and promote our welfare while securing their own. Our State has never sought to make known her advantages by those means so often successfully employed by others, and the time has now come when we cannot afford longer to be inadequate. Without being unduly boastful, we can, with telling effect, show what we have done in the past and what we can do in the future. Whether we wish it or not, comparisons will be made in the World's Fair by our countrymen from all parts of the United States, and by every stranger that comes from foreign lands, and as Kentuckians, we must so do it that when comparisons are made there shall be no reason for Kentuckians to be ashamed of her display. It would be mortifying to our pride and prejudicial to our material interests, if our State, in that competition, occupied a low place or if she were subject, in any degree, to just criticism or contempt. We have no doubt that our representation shall have an honorable and conspicuous place among the most admired States of the Union. This opportunity is rare and will be so fruitful of lasting good that, to neglect it would not only be unpatriotic, but would be unwise to the last degree. Kentucky must act promptly, and, in a manner worthy of herself and worthy of this great republic.

"Resolved, Second, That have information that the 10th anniversary of the admission of the State of Kentucky to the Union will be appropriately celebrated at the city of Lexington, Ky., on the 20th day of June, 1892, and that on this occasion there should be exhibited in addition to the material sources of the State, everything that tends to illustrate its present, its history, and its conditions as well as its progress; therefore, in our opinion, a bill that may be passed pursuant to the foregoing resolution ought to provide that a tenth per cent. of the money appropriated might be expended in the collection and preservation of permanent exhibits coming within the above description, for the purpose of being displayed at such centennial celebration, and afterward held together and transported to and exhibited at the Columbian Exposition in 1893."

Governor Brown.

(Mayvase Commonweal.)

The Crittenden Press notes the fact that John Young Brown, an attorney, representing the people of the city of Henderson, was instrumental in making a big bridge corporation pay a large sum of justly due taxes; and that as Governor he is turning his attention to certain railroads which occupy a similar position to the people of Henderson. If the Press will closely scrutinize the past record of John Young Brown it will find that he always has been on the side of the people, and against all encroachments upon their rights; and it will observe his course in the future it will find therein no variability or shadow of turning. Gov. Brown's whole career has exemplified his devotion to justice. He is the bitter foe of injustice, of wrong-doing, no matter in what manner or under what guise it may be committed. Those who may attempt to take advantage of the people during his administration will find a sleepless lion in their path.

A Business Grant Jury.

Russellville, Ky., Jan. 22.—The grand jury for Logan county adjourned to-day, after returning seventy-five indictments, three for murder.

Death of an Old Citizen.

J. A. Mott died at his home in the Bethlehem neighborhood Monday, January 18, aged 80 years, 1 month and 26 days. He came to this State from North Carolina in 1812, with his parents, who settled in what is now Livingston county. In 1830 they came to this county but later moved back to Livingston county where they died. Mr. Mott was married to Julia Miller with whom he lived until her death in 1882. They were the parents of eleven children, among whom are County Supt. of Schools, S. B. Mott, of Princeton; Dr. J. D. Mott, of Cider, and Dr. J. B. Mott, of Princeton. Princeton Banner.

MR. MILLS RESIGNS.

He Will Serve the Party on the Floor of the House.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Representative Roger Q. Mills, of Texas, has written a letter to Speaker Crisp resigning his position as Chairman of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. Mr. Mills, resigning, says he is simply following out the line of action indicated in his former letter to Speaker Crisp, in which he declined to take second place on the Committee of Ways and Means. He is willing, he says, to be in the ranks, but does not care a Chairmanship.

GONE TO GARZA.

Hundreds of Mexicans Leave Home for the Frontier.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 22.—Information reached here from Sonora, Texas, located in the valley of Devil's river, 200 miles west of here, that the Mexicans of that place to the number of 200 have deserted their homes and flocked to the border. The Mexican herdsmen on the ranches of that section had also left their work and all have gone to join in the revolutionary movement. A number of secret agents of Garza have been working in that section for the past several days, and supplied the Mexican revolutionists with arms. That part of the Rio Grande frontier is greatly aroused, and it is claimed by prominent Americans of Sonora that war with Mexico is inevitable, and that Garza has the whole of Northern Mexico with him. An order was issued to-day by Gen. Stanley, commander of the military Department of Texas, for Capt. John G. Bourke, commander of Troop C, Third Cavalry, at Fort Ringgold, and Major Louis T. Morris, in temporary command of Fort McIntosh, to report immediately in person to department headquarters here. The cause of the unexpected action could not be learned, but it is hinted that it is in reference to certain charges made by citizens of the lower Rio Grande against Capt. Bourke for alleged unilitary action.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

The lord mayor of London, it is announced, will form a committee to raise the sum necessary to send to the Exposition a selected number of representative workingmen from London, with a view of their making exhibits there. Similar action was taken in case of the last two Paris Expositions.

Indiana's building at the Exposition will be French gothic in style, and constructed entirely of Indiana material. It will measure 100x170 feet, and in reality will be a $100,000 structure, through an account of the donation of a large part of the material entering into its construction, its cash cost will be only about $30,000.

A proper has been inaugurated to have an international rifle shoot at Chicago, at some time while the Exposition is in progress. It is proposed that picked teams from the U. S. army and national guard compete with teams from other nations.

A grand dedication ball, probably in the Auditorium, on the night of October 13, 1892, will conclude the exercises dedicatory of the Exposition buildings. Many representatives of foreign countries are expected to be present, and the event will be, to an extent, international in character.

then, State Geologist of Illinois, will form part of the Illinois exhibit at the Exposition. The State World's Fair Board has purchased it for $8,000.

The ceremonies attending the dedication of the Exposition buildings, October 11, 12 and 23, 1892, are to be very elaborate and impressive. The committee having the matter in hand will devote $300,000 to that purpose. It is expected that the President of the United States and his Cabinet, many of the Senators and Congressmen, and Governors of the States, and several representatives of foreign governments, and 10,000 militia and several thousand regulars will be present.

The National Association of Woolen Manufacturers has decided to make a united exhibit at the Fair.

On the three evenings during the exercises dedicatory of the Exposition buildings, October 11, 12 and 13, fireworks to the value of $25,000 will be displayed. The contract has already been let.

The United States Pottery Association has applied for 32,000 square feet in the Manufacturers' building, and announced its intention of making an exhibit that will not be surpassed by any showing made by the famed potteries of Europe.

The Chemical National Bank of Chicago has been granted the privilege of establishing and operating a bank on the Exposition grounds. It will afford to exhibitors and visitors all the conveniences and safeguards of a metropolitan bank, including safety deposit vaults.

Japan has appropriated $630,865 for its representation at the Exposition. A splendid Japanese exhibit is assured.

Chew Yu Ling, representing commercial parties in China, has arranged to conduct a tea pavilion on Midway Plaisance, and has applied for 1,000 square feet of space in the Manufacturers building in which to exhibit Chinese silks, embroideries, etc.

It is the intention to have one room in Delaware's Exposition building, fitted up in colonial style, with hangings, pictures and furniture of that period. Among the exhibits in this room it is proposed to show models of three celebrated colonial churches—the "Old Swedes' Church, in Wilmington, founded in 1639; Barratt's Chapel near Frederica, which was founded in 1780, and where, in November, 1784, Rev. Dr. Thomas Coke, Francis Asbury, afterward first Methodist bishop in America, met with several others and planned the organization of the Methodist church in this country; and Christ Church, Broad Creek.

The World's Fair Board for Kansas is promoting a plan whereby it is expected that the expense of erecting the Exposition building for that State will be borne by school pupils. The proposition is to have all of the schools in the State observe a "World's Fair Day," by holding an entertainment with music, recitations, tableaux, etc., to which a small entrance fee will be charged. The proceeds are expected to be sufficient to pay the State building. Over the main entrance of the structure it is proposed to have the words: "Erected by the School Children of Kansas."

The colossal statue of the Republic, which will stand on a pedestal rising from the basin in front of the Administration building, is being modeled in Paris by Daniel C. French, the sculptor. It will be seventy-five

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

The Legislature is doing precious little work.

The old saying, "Look before you leap," appears to be the motto of the Legislature.

Chili has pulled off her fighting clothes, and wants to go into court with the case.

The only mistake Chili makes in her preparation is the withdrawal of the request for the recall of Egan.

The little South American dwarf gracefully withdraws from the town of the John L. Sullivan of North America.

According to newspaper reports Mr. Cleveland will shortly announce that he will not be in the fight for the Presidential nomination.

It is said that the New York delegation to the National Convention has already been agreed upon, and that seventy of the seventy-two are known Hill henchmen.

The mentioning of the name of John G. Carlisle for the nomination for President has been met with a responsive amen from many corners of the country. He is eminently an American as well as a Kentuckian and his party should have the backbone to nominate him, if the location of his residence is the only serious opposition to face.

A Washington letter says that there will not be a scarcity of names present at the National Democratic Convention, and in evidence of the statement offers this:

"New Jersey will present Gov. Leon Abbott; Massachusetts, Gov. Russell, or Mr. Cleveland, if he will allow his name to go before the convention. In the latter case, Pennsylvania will second the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, but otherwise will present Gov. Patterson. Maryland will put Senator Gorman in nomination, and Delaware ex-Senator Bayard; Ohio, Gov. Campbell; Indiana, Gov. Gray; Illinois, Col. Morrison, and, I am told by knowing Illinois Democrats, that, notwithstanding the factional fight in the State, Col. Morrison will carry the delegation to the National Convention. Iowa will present Gov. Boies; Wisconsin, Gov. Peck or Senator Vilas; Missouri, Gov. Francis, and last, though not least, Kentucky, John Griffin Carlisle."

The movement on the part of the Board of L. U. of Hopkins county to secure a reduction of the salary of County Superintendents of schools is certainly not in the interest of a broad, sensible economy. Such a step would be like lopping the head off that the nutriment it consumes might be given to the body, or amputating a hand that its requirements might not tax the body. The Superintendent of the schools is the head of the system and his usefulness can readily be seen when we compare the school of to-day with the school of twenty years ago. That a competent man would fill the office for a salary less than that now paid is not worthy of discussion when we consider the duties and responsibilities. The Superintendent must have a good English education and be competent to examine teachers. He is required to give bond in a sum of not less than double the amount of school fund that may be due the county. Under this provision, in a county like Crittenden, the bond for the faithful discharge of duties is about $25,000. Who is there that would go into a bond of that size for a salary? Then he is charged with the power to lay off, abolish or consolidate districts, make new ones, condemn houses. In this particular a level head and a cool hand is needed to keep down strife. Who would do this for a salary? Then the Superintendent must visit the schools, at the time of such visit, note in a book the number of pupils in attendance, the cause of absence, the names of children unable to purchase books, the condition of school houses, the qualification and efficiency of the teacher, the conduct and standing of the pupils, the method of instruction, the discipline and government of the school. He shall advise with the teachers and give them instruction regarding discipline. He shall counsel the trustees, and see that they discharge their duties. Where is there a competent man who would faithfully discharge these duties for a sum materially smaller than now paid? This officer handles all the money paid to the teachers; here is also a responsibility. Miss Maggie Mott, who is severely afflicted of erysipelas.

THE WAR CLOUD GONE.

CHILI WITHDRAWS THE OFFENSIVE NOTE AND REQUEST.

And Proposes Arbitration to Settle the Valparaiso Affairs.

Santiago, Chili, Jan. 25.—The Chilean government has sent a reply to the ultimatum of the United States. The reply is in effect as follows: Chili agrees to withdraw the offensive note sent by Senor Matta to all the Chilean ministers abroad, and acknowledges that its issuance was due to an error of judgment. Chili also withdraws its request for the withdrawal of United States Minister Egan. In addition, the Chilean government in its answer proposes that the affair of the attack on the Baltimore sailors in Valparaiso be submitted to the arbitration of some neutral nation. If this proposition is not acceptable to the United States government, the Chilean government suggests that the matter be submitted to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 22.—The following bills of general interest were introduced in the House to-day:

By Mr. Tinsley—Bill to amend the civil code of practice.

By Mr. Peck—Act to provide for laying off the several counties of the State into magisterial districts.

By Mr. Halbert—Act to amend the General Statutes with reference to the crime of larceny.

By Mr. Dawson—A bill to establish and maintain a uniform system of text books in the common schools of the State, and to reduce the price thereof.

By Mr. Simms—An act to authorize the fiscal courts of counties, under certain circumstances, to issue bonds for the purpose of building court houses.

Mr. Brashaw's bill to reduce the rate of interest from 6 to 5 per cent. was given a second reading. Mr. Myers proposed an amendment to make the rate 4 per cent. Further action was postponed until Wednesday.

THE FORMAL CALL.

Issued for the assembling of the National Democratic Convention.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The Democratic National Committee issued their call to-day as follows: The National Democratic Committee at a meeting held this day in the city of Washington, D. C., has appointed Tuesday, the 21st day of June, 1892, as the time and Chicago as the place of holding the National Democratic Convention. Each State is entitled to a representation therein, equal to double the number of the representation to which it is entitled in the next electoral college, and each territory and the District of Columbia all have two delegates. All Democratic and conservative citizens of the United States, irrespective of past political association, who can unite with us in the effort for pure, economical and constitutional government, are cordially invited to join us in sending delegates to the convention.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Fredonia.

Miss Hettie Howerton, of Nelson, Ky., has been visiting her brother, Sam Howerton, of Kelsey, the past week or two.

Mr. Owen Boaz, of the Caldwell Spring neighborhood, died Jan. 18, of consumption.

There has been more rabbits killed in this community since the snow fell than ever was before for the same length of time.

Grant Bug, of Marion, was in town a day or two last week.

Orider & Maxwell have moved their stock of hardware into Orider's store house vacated last week by J. A. Garner.

Drummers were almost as numerous last week as rabbits.

James Buckner, of Paducah, was in town a few days last week.

A great many who whooped long and loud for a railroad tax, now fight of way, subscriptions, etc., now wish the road was in some other place. They loose stock without being compensated, have to pay higher freight than teaming used to cost, and a great many are now shipping and receiving goods, stock, produce, etc., by river.

Dr. J. B. Mott went up in Bethlehem neighborhood last week to attend his sister, Miss Maggie Mott, who is severely afflicted of erysipelas.

Miss Lissa Williams will give a piano recital on Friday evening, January 29th, at the O. P. church. Doors open at 7 p.m.; free admission. Come and enjoy the white-wine melody.

ONE BULLET.

Killed the Mule and the Man.

Somerset, Ky., Jan. 25.—A gentleman who just arrived here from Clay county gave our reporter the particulars of the killing of John Desarm by John Henley Sunday morning near Bullskin Salt Works, on Goose Creek. An old feud had existed between the parties for some years, and they had threatened to kill each other on sight.

Each of the men had gathered a number of friends around and equipped for battle at the first meeting. It happened that Henley and some of his friends were passing along Goose Creek when a shot was fired at them from the opposite side, when they saw John Desarm slinking from and getting behind his mule. He then fired another shot from his pistol but missed his mark, doing no injury to his enemy.

Henley was armed with a needle gun with which he fired at Desarm, the ball passing through the mule, killing it. The ball also penetrated the heart of Desarm, killing him instantly. Henley then went to Manchester and surrendered and was placed in jail. His brother, Parley Henley, a white man, was also arrested and is now in jail.

WOMAN KILLS WOMAN.

A Bloody Tragedy on the Streets of Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 25.—The most sensational tragedy which has occurred in Memphis for years was committed about 4 o'clock this afternoon. The victim was a young woman and her slayer was of the same sex. Both were familiar figures in society, and the awful affair is tonight the talk of the town.

A few minutes before 4 o'clock a buggy containing Miss Alice Mitchell and Miss Liza Johnson drove up to the broad sidewalk around Custom house block, leading to the levee. Coming slowly up to the steep incline from the river side Miss Freda Ward, of Gold Dust, Ark., and her sister Jo, who had just put another sister, Mrs. Cummings, aboard the steamer Ross Lee for Gold Dust, Ark. The young ladies were soon opposite the carriage, chatting pleasantly and paying no attention to surroundings.

Suddenly from out the carriage at about 4 o'clock, Miss Mitchell, grasping Miss Freda Ward by the neck, she drew a bright razor from out the folds of her dress and without a word drew it across the throat of her victim. Miss Ward sank to the pavement in an instant, the blood pouring in torrents from the severed jugular. The murdered girl's sister who had by this time recovered from her astonishment, grappled with the woman and tried to hold her, but in a twinkling she, too, received a cut, but luckily only a trifling one, near the ear.

Miss Mitchell being freed from Miss Ward jumped in the buggy in an instant, and with the exclamation: "Drive quick, I've done it," seized the whip, and with Miss Johnson still holding the lines, the pair were soon around the corner into Madison street and away from the scene of the tragedy.

Miss Ward was tenderly picked up by the gathering crowd, and a passing carriage, which was pressed into service, conveyed her to the Rogers Infirmary. She was, however, beyond human aid, and expired just as the infirmary was reached. The body was then taken to an undertaking establishment.

At 6 o'clock this evening Capt. Police Davis had arrested Miss Mitchell, who was found at her home on Union street, and conveyed to the jail in a carriage.

The cause of the killing is to night not positively apparent, as Miss Mitchell refuses to say a word to anybody on the subject. It is said, however, that Miss Ward, who was visiting in this city, had on former trips to Memphis, been the guest of Miss Mitchell. Later, however, she has refused to partake of the hospitality of the Mitchell household, and refused also to recognize Miss Mitchell on the street. It is alleged further, by several persons, that Miss Ward has made remarks of a decidedly uncompromising nature regarding Miss Mitchell, and this latter allegation is supposed to have been the cause of the tragedy.

Miss Mitchell is the nineteen-year old daughter of George Mitchell, a retired furniture dealer, and she and Miss Johnson, in the latter's stylish "turnout," were a familiar sight on the different drives about the city. Miss Ward is the daughter of John Ward, a planter and wealthy merchant of Gold Dust, Ark.

It now seems to be pretty certain that the Louisville and Nashville has leased, or is about to lease, to the Ohio Valley railroad the branch from Clarksville to Princeton. The Ohio Valley has been after this branch for some time, as it would give an almost direct line to Nashville, with the construction of the road from Clarksville to Nashville. This would give two lines from Louisville to Nashville, both about the same length.

A special from Hopkinsville last night says the deal is on, and that the lease has been practically completed. The dispatch also says the Ohio Valley intends early in the spring building a line from Gracely, on the Princeton and Clarksville branch, to Hopkinsville, a distance of ten miles.—Wednesday's Courier-Journal.

Another Hanging.

The First Railway to Jerusalem.

(London Evening Standard.)

The first railway to Jerusalem will, we are told, be opened in the spring of the coming year. It is a short line running only from Joppa, the nearest port on the Mediterranean, and intended to accommodate the growing passenger and other traffic between that place and the Holy City. The work of construction is being carried out by a French company, who began laying down the line in April, 1890. It is fully expected that the speculation will be a paying one. The company anticipate, at all event, making large profits, after paying the shareholders a guaranteed interest of 5 per cent. It is stated that over 40,000 persons land at Joppa every year, in order to make a pilgrimage to Jerusalem and others spots celebrated in sacred history. The number of steamers and other vessels putting into the port of Joppa is now upward of 800 a year, the destination of most of the passengers and merchandise they convey being the capital of Palestine. In evidence of the recent rapid growth of the traffic, it may be mentioned that Joppa has trebled its population within the past thirty years. Tourists will be able to take a return ticket from the port in question and Jerusalem for 20 francs, and, what is more, they will be able to do the journey in a far shorter time with infinitely greater safety than heretofore. The rush of tourists from all parts of the civilized world to Jerusalem will, if the expectations of the promoters are fulfilled, be something phenomenal in the immediate future.

Fredonia.

Gus Bently Howerton, infant son of Sam Howerton, died last Wednesday morning, after several days of intense suffering, and was buried at the Wyatt graveyard Thursday.

Press Maxwell, of Marion, was in town last week on business.

Ben Wiggington's little girl died last Friday after several weeks of severe suffering.

The snow is fine on wheat and microbes.

Silas McMurray and wife, of Repton, came over last Friday on a visit to relatives and friends.

Last Friday morning, while out rabbit hunting, Henry Calvert, col., accidentally shot Frank Hughes; only one shot however doing any damage; it went nearly through Frank's upper lip diagonally. He came to town to have a doctor to cut it out, but in the absence of the doctor, J. S. Bugg performed the operation very skillfully. There is too much carelessness displayed in this country in the use of fire arms.

There has been a stray bull around my farm for the past two months, causing me a great deal of trouble by jumping to my hay ricks. He will weigh about 1,000 lbs, roan color, one horn a little drooped; would be glad for the owner to come and get him and pay for damages. T. M. Butler, Fredonia, Ky.

last week. He owns a large horse ranch in Colorado; he has about 800 horses composed of Clydesdales, Normans, Percherons, Morgans, etc. He will make a shipment to Caldwell in May of several carloads.

R. E. Cooper, of Hopkinsville, was visiting here several days last week.

Jacobs & Debee keep on hand the best quality of sugars and coffees at prices that defy competition.

J. J. Hillyard died at his home last Sunday after a severe and protracted illness. Of ten children only three survive him. Years ago he was a member and ruling elder of the C. P. Church at Bethlehem; after the organization of the C. P. Church in Fredonia he moved his membership here, where he has been an elder and a zealous Christian worker ever since. During the meeting here in December he gave a synopsis of the joys and sorrows of his Christian life and said he was ready whenever it was his Master's will to leave this world of sin and sorrow and go to dwell with Jesus and loved ones gone before.

How peaceful the death of the righteous shall be.
What joy to be from this world of sin set free;
To dwell with Jesus and loved ones beyond the skies.
Where tears of sorrow shall no more bedim the eyes.

JUST WHAT EVERY FARMER WANTS, The "Granite" Chilled Plow.

A Sweeping Success.

Our new "Granite" Chilled Plow has gone to the front with wonderful strides. It is now an acknowledged leader with all who have used it.

Its special merits are:

- 1st. Perfection in outline and shape.
- 2nd. Great turning capacity.
- 3rd. New combination of metals, hard, yet tough.
- 4th. Patent adjustable slip heel, for compensating wear giving suck or pitch to plow.
- 5th. Runs steadily and is very light draft.
- 6th. Each plow has one point for soft and another for hard, dry soil.
- 7th. With all its advantages it is sold at the same price as inferior Chilled plows.

Prices and Description of Avery's Granite Chilled Plows.

Number	Turning Capacity	Price
